

GABRIEL LORENZO GRESCHLER

339.364.4030 | ggreschler@gmail.com | San Francisco, CA
ggreschler.com | Twitter | LinkedIn

EXPERIENCE

Reporter, J. The Jewish News of Northern California, San Francisco, CA — February 2019–Present

✦ Editorial Assistant: July 2019-January 2020

- Report multiple stories per week — both breaking and long-form — that cover the Bay Area Jewish community
- Cultivate sources in the Bay Area Jewish community that provide context and crucial information for articles
- Provide content, including photographs and video, for articles

On-Call Interactive Producer, KQED, San Francisco, CA — November 2019–Present

- Produce and edit blog posts for kqednews.org
- Manage web page updates and make editorial decisions regarding web news
- Create original news stories from diverse news sources and add supplemental multimedia content
- Manage social media accounts to share and broadcast KQED content

Editor-in-Chief, The San Francisco Foghorn, University of San Francisco's Student Newspaper, San Francisco, CA — May 2018–May 2019

✦ News Editor: September-December 2017

✦ Opinion Editor: August-December 2016

- Directly responsible for the production and publication of The San Francisco Foghorn (print & online)
- Managed team of 12 student editors while officially representing the paper in all external matters
- Spearheaded effort to create the newspaper's first podcast series, FogPod
- Conducted final review/proofreading of each article before publication, oversee investigative reporting initiatives
- Approved and made final recommendations for hiring and dismissals
- Oversaw weekly staff meetings to discuss each published issue and review upcoming issue

Reporting Intern, Student Press Law Center, Washington, D.C. — January-June 2018

- Published 20 articles, podcasts, and videos about press censorship at American high schools and universities. (My original reporting of a Texas high school was later covered in The New York Times)
- Tracked and covered “New Voices” legislation, a national SPLC legislative campaign

Co-Founder and Editor, The Trump 101 Podcast, San Francisco, CA — January-December 2017

- Created an award-winning podcast to document how university students were being impacted by the Trump administration
- Interviewed and edited each episode. Also involved in marketing and outreach to find potential guests

Journalism Fellow, 91.7 KALW Radio (NPR/BBC affiliate), San Francisco, CA — June-September 2017

- Selected out of 80 applicants to pitch, report and produce original feature radio stories
- In charge of weekly conference calls for potential news stories, uploaded radio stories to the KALW website and completed a series of in-house ethics/fact-checking courses
- Published an August 2017 story which aired

EDUCATION / SKILLS / AWARDS

University of San Francisco — Major: Politics, Minor: Journalism, May 2019, Honor Roll (GPA: 3.60)

Advanced: Editing, Audio Production (Pro Tools and Adobe Audition), Reporting, Management, Fact-checking, AP Style

Intermediate: Visual Journalism (Adobe After Effects), Web Design (HTML, Wix, WordPress), Journalism Ethics, Investigative Journalism (PACER, FOIA)

Awards

- 2019 Mauricio Romero Award, University of San Francisco Politics Department
- 2019 Senior Leadership Award, University of San Francisco Student Leadership and Engagement
- 2018 Blake Scholar for Excellence in Student Journalism, University of San Francisco Media Studies Department
- 2017 National Student Production Awards - Third Place (Best Podcast, The Trump 101 Podcast)

REFERENCES

- Diana Mitsu Klos: Director of Engagement, Student Press Law Center, 202-728-7267, dmk@splc.org
- Danielle Dieterich: Journalism Fellow, Student Press Law Center, (916) 792-3890, ddieterich@splc.org
- Teresa Moore: Professor, University of San Francisco (formerly at The Washington Post and San Francisco Chronicle), (415) 802-4424, mooret@usfca.edu

